

Ulrich Buehler Barn

This barn is located on 273 W 100 North in Midway, Utah, and is a unique barn, built in 1906 without rafters. Instead, it has large poles to help hold up the roof. It belonged to Ulrich Buehler at the time it was built, and then sold to George Burgener in 1915. In 1925, Nephi

Probst purchased the barn and kept it until 1929 when he sold it to Francis Probst.

In 1965, Kay Probst bought the barn. Kay has all the documents on this barn which is rather unusual. He invited me to look inside and that is where the interesting things are. I believe that this barn is going to be sold again. The barn is made of red pine and was built to store hay and feed cows.

Information given to Florine Whiting by Kay and Nadine Probst.

Belle Lettre Club Eagle Scout

Some writings and poetry from the book, When There's Love, written by Joseph Olpin and some videos and history of the Olpin family were enjoyed by the Belle Lettre Club on Jan. 20. Inazelle Knight presented the material in a beautiful way and members were all excited to renew their memories of this very special family.

In the absence of Liz Murdock, who is program chairman of the club, Lila Mae Johnson introduced Inazelle. She and George were married on April 30, 1948, which means a 50th this year. They lived in Park City for a year and then moved to Heber where they have made their home since then. They have five children and thirteen grandchildren.

Inazelle has served at different times in Primary, MIA, and Relief Society. Currently she and her husband are Temple workers which they love doing. It's their Heaven on Earth day. She and her sisters took care of their mother for twelve years and created some loving memories. She goes about quietly doing good and helping others. Inazelle loves to crochet and quilt.

Norma Hansen was a gracious hostess and served delicious refreshments to 18 members. She has

Dean Todd

Dean Todd, son of David and Vickie Todd, received his Eagle Scout Award on Jan. 18. For his Eagle Scout Project, he and his Troop #222 had the responsibility to find and relocate a large sandstone rock that would add to the beauty of the south entrance of Heber City. He and his Scout Troop found three large sandstone rocks, took pictures of them, reported back to the City Fathers, and helped the City Fathers decide which one rock would look best at that location.

Dean would like to thank all those who helped and encouraged him to receive his Eagle. A special thanks to the wonderful family that donated this five ton rock to our community.
